

2024 Plant List Now Available
It's Time to Pre-Order Seedlings!
$4.99/ 4" pot

Please Pre-Order by March 1. You can either stop into the shop with your list, or email it to us. No need to pay in advance, but if you don't receive confirmation by email, please call to make sure we received the order. 845 482 3333.

Plants will be available for pickup around Memorial Day weekend, depending on the weather.

We've added some determinate tomato varieties this year. Determinate varieties typically stop growing after they reach two or three feet in height. They also tend to produce most of their fruit at about the same time. Indeterminate varieties, on the other hand, tend to grow and produce fruit throughout the season. All of the tomatoes listed here are indeterminate unless specifically marked otherwise.

Cherry Tomatoes

- Black cherry: small red hybrid tomatoes with a bit of purple
- Black Strawberry: cherry-sized hybrid fruit with a lot of purple
- Cherry bomb: hybrid cherry tomato with good disease resistance
- Chocolate Cherry: large heirloom cherry with lots of chocolate coloring and very good flavor
- Chocolate pear: similar to chocolate cherry but pear-shaped and a hybrid
- Gardener's Delight: one of the larger cherries, and an heirloom
- Jasper: one of the smallest cherry tomatoes
- Sun Gold: A favorite of gardeners, this hybrid is orange or gold, ripens early and is very sweet
- Super Sweet 100: small sweet and prolific hybrid
- Yellow Pear: bright yellow and pear-shaped heirloom tomato

Grape Tomatoes

- Brad's Atomic: Multi-colored hybrid grape tomatoes that are fun to grow

Micro Tomatoes

- Spoon: the tomatoes are tiny and juicy but the hybrid plants are full-sized

Determinate Tomatoes:

- Celebrity: Hybrid, a long-time favorite with home gardeners, mid-sized and red.
- Purple Reign: a purple open-pollinated newcomer with good flavor.
- Carbon: An open-pollinated black variety.
- Skyway: Hybrid plant produces 8 to 12 ounce fruit, with good disease resistance.

Small Indeterminate Tomatoes:

- Black Beauty: Said to be the darkest tomato that exists
- Black Vernissage: a 2 or 3 ounce heirloom tomato with very good flavor. Like most of the so-called black tomatoes, these tend to be less resistant to diseases than the red and yellow varieties
- Jaune Flamme: A prolific French heirloom that has been a favorite of Cutting Garden customers.
- Orange Icicle: This is a Ukrainian variety heirloom with good flavor and very few seeds.
- Piglet Willey: an heirloom variety, about three inches with red and mahogany coloring.
- Purple Russian: an open-pollinated variety about three inches long with deep purple coloring.

Medium Indeterminate Tomatoes:

- Chianti Rose: an heirloom slicer with the deep pink coloring of a rose.
- Damsel: a pink hybrid tomato with an heirloom taste that was bred to be disease resistance
- Early Girl: a long-time gardener favorite, this hybrid tomato ripens earlier than most others.
- Martha Washington: Another pink hybrid bred for flavor and sturdiness.
- Purple Heart: This hybrid produces heart-shaped, deep purple fruit
- Purple Reign: This hybrid has red and purple fruit

Large Indeterminate Tomatoes:

- Beefsteak: Meaty heirloom fruits reach one to two pounds.
- Big Beef: one of the most reliable hybrid producers
- Big Zac: An heirloom that can produce tomatoes of more than two pounds each.
- Black Krim is a Russian heirloom with a flavor that's been described as smokey
- Brandywine: an open-pollinated variety that has been around for generations
- Carolina Gold: A large, yellow hybrid tomato with a great flavor
- Costoluto Genevese: A large, ribbed, red, heirloom tomato that dates back about 200 years,
- Dad's Sunset: Large yellow/orange hybrid, sometimes streaked with red, and very mild flavor.
- Dester: Large pink beefsteak originally from Germany.
- German Johnson: Large pink heirloom, produces a prolific amount of fruit
- German Pink: This heirloom originated in Bavaria and has been on the U.S. since 1883.
- Giant Belgium: Another large, pink, heirloom, this one from Belgium.
- Kellogg's Breakfast: This large, yellow, heirloom was bred in Michigan, and like all yellow tomatoes, has a milder flavor than red ones.
- Mortgage Lifter: An old heirloom variety, the man who developed this tomato, according to gardening lore, sold enough of the plants to pay off the mortgage on his home.
- Old German: A peach-colored heirloom variety from Germany.
- Paul Robeson: A large heirloom variety that is red with lots of purple throughout and a lot of deep flavor
- Pineapple: A large, yellow heirloom tomato shot through with red coloring. The flavor is similar to Striped German and is among the best in the garden.
- Purple Prudens: A pink/purple heirloom that tolerates a variety of conditions.
- Rebekah Allen: Big, red, tasty heirloom slicer
- Striped German: A large, yellow heirloom tomato shot through with red coloring. The flavor is similar to Pineapple and is among the best in the garden. 30 seeds
- White Tomesol: Creamy white large hybrid tomato with very mild flavor

Paste Tomatoes

- Amish Paste: Large paste/sauce tomato
- Gilbertie Paste: The largest paste/sauce tomato
- San Marzano: smaller, most popular paste/sauce tomato
- Granadero: prolific and disease resistant

PEPPERS

Sweet Peppers

- Carmen: Hybrid bull-type sweet red pepper
- Corno De Torro Rosse: Italian open-pollinated bull-type red pepper
- Cubanelle: Heirloom, normally used when green, can have mild heat, often used in cooking
- Nardello: slim, sweet heirloom peppers about six inches long
- Pablano: Open pollinated, heart-shaped fruit with a small bit of heat
- Red Roaster: Hybrid red bell pepper
- Shishito: Open-pollinated, small wrinkled fruit with a bit of heat
- Staddon's Select: Open-pollinated bell pepper that ripens before most other red peppers
- Sweet Banana: Six-inch peppers normally pick early when yellow, often picked and used in sandwiches

Hot peppers

- Carolina Reapers, said to be the hottest pepper available, use caution when handling
- Cayenne, large: six-inch red cayenne peppers, hot
- Datil: very hot peppers similar to habanero
- Ghost peppers: a Bhutanese pepper with extreme heat
- Habanero: small orange very hot peppers also called Scotch Bonnets
- Jalapeno: normally harvested when green, hot but not as fiery as others
- Lemon drop: bright yellow when ripe, three-inch hot peppers

Ground Cherries

Very tasty, small sweet/tart fruits in husks. The plants grow about three feet high and four feet across. The berries are ripe and often harvested when they fall to the ground, protected by the papery husk.

Herbs -- $3.99 in a 3" pot

- Basil, Bouquet Mix
- Lavender, Munstead
- Rosemary, Officinalis ARP
- Thyme, Vulgaris English Compact

Fruit - $4.25 in a 3" pot

- Strawberry, small everbearing, Montana – great for hanging baskets!

Orders due by March 1st, please!

Email your orders to: cuttinggarden@hotmail.com

Call us with your questions or your order: 845 482 3333

Stop in weekends: 4055 State Rte 52, Youngsville, NY 12791

- 11-5 Saturdays
- 11-4 Sundays

Here's to a great gardening season ahead!

Fritz and Anne